

THE OAKMARK FUNDS

DESCRIPTION OF PROXY VOTING POLICIES, GUIDELINES, AND PROCEDURES

The Oakmark Funds have authorized Harris Associates L.P. (“Harris”), the Funds’ Adviser, to exercise all voting rights with respect to portfolio securities of the Funds. The Oakmark Funds also have approved Harris’ Proxy Voting Policies, Guidelines, and Procedures. The following is a description of those policies.

General Policy

We, at Harris, have always believed that proxy voting rights are valuable portfolio assets and an important part of our investment process, and we exercise our voting responsibilities as a fiduciary solely with the goal of serving the best interests of our clients as shareholders of a company. We have long been active in voting proxies on behalf of shareholders in the belief that the proxy voting process is a significant means of addressing crucial corporate governance issues and encouraging corporate actions that we believe enhance shareholder value. In determining how to vote on any proposal, we will consider the proposal’s expected impact on shareholder value and will not consider any benefit to us, at Harris, or our employees or affiliates.

We consider the experience, competence and reputation of a company’s management when we evaluate the merits of investing in a particular company, and we invest in companies in which we believe management goals and shareholder goals are aligned. As a result of this alignment, it is likely that we will agree with management teams on most issues addressed in proxy voting resolutions, and will therefore be likely to vote in accordance with management recommendations in the majority of cases. However, there is no presumption to vote in line with management. We evaluate each resolution on its own merits, and we will vote against management recommendations on any resolution where we believe that this course of action is in the best interests of the Oakmark Funds and their shareholders.

Proxy Voting Guidelines

Our Proxy Committee has established a number of proxy voting guidelines on various issues of concern to investors. We will generally vote proxies in accordance with these guidelines unless we determine that it is in the best economic interests of The Oakmark Funds and fund shareholders to vote contrary to the guidelines. Our voting guidelines do not cover all potential voting issues but generally address issues related to boards of directors, auditors, equity-based compensation plans, shareholder rights, and environmental, social and governance issues and reflect the following beliefs:

- With respect to a company’s board of directors, we believe that boards should have a majority of independent directors and that audit, compensation and nominating committees should generally consist solely of independent directors, and we will usually vote in favor of proposals that ensure such independence.
- With respect to auditors, we believe that the relationship between an issuer and its auditors should be limited primarily to the audit engagement, although it may include certain closely-related activities such as financial statement preparation and tax-related services that do not raise any appearance of impaired independence.

- With respect to equity-based compensation plans, we believe that appropriately designed equity-based compensation plans approved by shareholders can be an effective way to align the interests of long-term shareholders and the interests of management, employees and directors. However, we will normally vote against plans that have historically been used to provide participants with excessive awards or have inherently objectionable structural features. We will also normally vote in favor of proposals to require the expensing of options.
- With respect to corporate structure and shareholder rights, we believe that all shareholders should have an equal voice and that barriers which limit the ability of shareholders to effect change and to realize full value are not desirable. Therefore, we will normally vote against proposals for supermajority voting rights, against the adoption of anti-takeover measures, and against proposals for different classes of stock with different voting rights.
- With respect to environmental, social and governance (ESG) issues, we believe that ESG issues can affect the financial performance of the companies that we invest in to varying degrees across companies, sectors and regions. As a result, we hold ESG-related proposals to the same standard as all other proposals when deciding how to cast our vote. We are focused on maximizing long-term shareholder value and believe that the consideration of material ESG factors is an important part of this approach.
- Because foreign issuers are incorporated under the laws of countries outside the United States, protection for and disclosures to shareholders may vary significantly from jurisdiction to jurisdiction. Accordingly, Harris' guidelines may not be appropriate under some circumstances for foreign issuers.

Conflicts of Interest

Our Proxy Committee, in consultation with our legal and compliance departments, will monitor and resolve possible material conflicts of interest with respect to proxy voting. A conflict of interest may exist, for example, when an issuer who is soliciting proxy votes also has a client relationship with us, at Harris, when a client of ours is involved in a proxy contest (such as a corporate director), or when one of our employees has a personal interest in the outcome of a proxy matter. When a conflict of interest arises, in order to ensure that proxies are voted solely in the best interests of the Funds and its shareholders, we will vote in accordance with either our written guidelines or the recommendation of an independent third-party voting service. If we believe that voting in accordance with the guidelines or the recommendation of the proxy voting service would not be in the collective best interests of the Oakmark Funds and their shareholders, the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of the Funds will determine how shares should be voted.
